

practical research for education

Newsletter | January 2010

In this issue:

- Action research book
- Issue 42
- Research engaged schools and colleges award
- Conference 2010 plans

Action research book

This new publication from NFER, brings together articles based on action research from practical research for education, and is a call to action for all those thinking of carrying out their own research.

Issue 42

Issue 42 is available online, paper copies are unfortunately delayed. We are hoping to have these out next week. If you are a current subscriber and would like to have your username and password please email me.

View issues and the website here

Research engaged schools and colleges award

Find out how to apply for the new research award from NFER, in partnership with Learning and Skills Improvement Service, Institute for Learning, National Union of Teachers, National College and Education Journal.

The award is to recognise schools and colleges that are using research to improve

teaching and learning.

There is no fee to apply, and the process is very simple. Just tell us about your research and we will assess it against set criteria.

Please send this information on to colleagues you know who may find this interesting. We look forward to hearing from you and receiving your applications! For further information please email or call me on 01753 637 002.

Conference plans for 2010

We are starting to think about the 2010 practical research for education conference. Find information on past conferences here. Please indicate if you would be interested in attending this year's conference by emailing me.

You are receiving this email because you have subscribed to practical research for education journal. To unsubscribe please send an email to Alice Yorke
Alice Yorke, Marketing and Sales Officer, NFER, The Mere, Upton Park, Slough, SL1 2DQ
tel 01753 637 002
email a.yorke@nfer.ac.uk