Dear Colleague,

Re: The Teacher Leadership Journal

The next issue of the journal is in press and will be available within a week or two. This means that the articles and stories from the last issue will be available for free download from our website www.teacherleadership.org.uk.

I am delighted that so many people have expressed interest in the Teacher Leadership journal and have been able to take advantage of the free download facility. Feedback so far tells us that this material is both informative and inspiring for teachers regardless of their professional situation. All the articles and stories in this journal are about teachers leading change in their schools and building professional knowledge in the process.

Our aim of course is to make these accounts of teacher led innovation available as widely as possible and we appreciate all the help we get in spreading the word. However, we need to achieve sufficient subscriptions if the journal's existence in the future is to be assured.

Please consider what you can do to help: you may be able to subscribe as an individual, you may be able to ask your school to subscribe or you may be able to persuade your local university library to subscribe.

Please use the attached form to subscribe or to arrange an institutional subscription.

With many thanks, sincerely,

David Frost
